

The Sweet, Leap Of Faith

There's no point in feeling sad about the good times that you've had But 'til things are gonna move on It'll only drive you mad To change your old life into a new life
life after life
You must believe in something hold my hand and I'll take you there rock of ages, sands of time and love becomes a leap of faith a leap of faith
It's gonna take a little time and everything will be just fine sometimes you've got to move on to turn the water into wine To change old life
into a new life
life after life
You must believe in something
and love becomes a leap of faith
a leap of faith
