

The Tea Party, Raven Skies

I am walking on to the place of the light.
And the things I see with the starlight sight.
In the dance of the fires in the flames I see,
Under raven skies she will sleep with me.

And I need her now and I need you.
Welcome to my garden and what do you see?
Welcome to my garden do you still see me?

I am looking through through the dance of the trees.
I experience what a shaman sees.
I've returned within I've returned with sight.
Under raven skies I will sleep tonight.

And I need her now and I need you.
Welcome to my garden and what do you see?
Welcome to my garden do you still see me?

And I need her now.
Welcome to my garden and what do ya see
Welcome to my garden do you still see me?
Welcome to my garden and what do you see?
Welcome to my garden do you still see me?
Do you still see me?
And I need her now
And I need her now
And I need her now!
