

The Temptations, Act Fast

You show discontent
That's fine, I don't care
You're never happy anyway
You care way too much
About what everyone else thinks
They might have liked you
But then you had to change

[Chorus:]
Good times will come
People will change
It could be worse you could be left with nothing
Instead you've got everything you want
You're empty inside
But only you know
You'll have everything
So it will not show
Nothing's ever good enough for you

You say you're giving up?
You say life's too hard?
That's typical for you, you never were very strong
You say it's too hard to try
And things can't get better
Like you're the only one with problems
You've always been self centered
