

The Thrills, Tell Me Something I Don't Know

Tell me something I don't know
Cos' these streets ain't paved with gold but vanity won't release me

If I learn to crash this plane
Oh baby believe me, I'll go down in flames
Just don't leave home on these words

Because every town I pass through keeps reminding me o' plans we used to share
So long fools

No one ever chews off leg
To escape with no hint of regret
But I know what you're thinking

Problems follow like a parade
They walk through walls... never learn to wait
I said, just don't leave home on these words

Because every town I pass through keeps reminding me o' plans we used to share

Because every word will pass for miles
And follow you like teenage virginity
So long fools

Ooh
On and on and on and on...

Because every town I pass through keeps reminding me o' plans we used to share
So long fools
