

The Tragically Hip, Impossibilium

i want a book that'll make me drunk full of freaks and disenfranchised punks no amount of hate no words no costume trunk could make me feel the same way an inch an hour two feet a day to move fashionable way there's this fuckin band you gotta see they used to scare the living shit outta me no frothing dog no roll" no christianity makes me feel the same way an inch an hour two feet a day to move throu say but i'm helpless less with the people than the space no struggletown no bemused trudeau no solitary walks through vacant lots in moonglow tonight the winter may have missed its mark you can see your breath in springside park coffee-col bark the sound of rushing water in the dark makes me feel the same way an inch an hour two feet with very little else to say but i'm helpless more with the people than the space i mean i'm helpless space
you see, i don't know neil i don't know neil
