The Used, Smother Me

Let me be the one who calls you baby
All the time
Surely you can take some comfort
Knowing that you're mine
Just hold me tight, lay by my side and let me be the one who calls you Baby all the time

Let me be the one who never leaves
You all alone
I hold my breath and lose the feeling That I'm on my own Hold me too tight stay by my side
and let me be the one who calls you
Baby all the time

When I'm alone time goes so slow
I need you here with me and how my mistakes have made Your heart break
Still I need you here with me
Baby I'm here

I found my place in the world Could stare at your face for the rest of my days
How can I breathe, turn my insides out and Smother me Warm and alive I'm all over you would you smother me?
