The Verve, Judas

Feelings Only feelings Just let 'em, let 'em go

Feelings Only feelings Just worthless, so I let 'em go

New York, I was Judas She said 'A latte, double shot for Judas' Cry for the things that happen, people need to know And for a dream to happen You gotta let it go, gotta let it go Gotta let it go, gotta let it go aha Gotta let it go

You let it go You let it go

But there must be Some answer I keep seeking, cause I gotta know We are numbered, and we are labeled Do we ever, break our home

I knew it, before you said it There's no need for, need to wait Need to wait

You let it go I'm running In the sky Slipping round Hold me up high I I I, high high high High, high, high

Woohoo Still holding on, you know the dreams have just begun The dream's just begun The dream's just begun I know you're still holding on Because the dream has just begun
