The Verve Pipe, Reverend Girl

We are for today
We are for the moment

We are a crusade But we are invalid

I am rummaging Stained my hands on her antique 2 AM

Reverend girl

I am so indifferent I am whatever

3 AM cellophane Suffocates my favorite things 4 AM

The reverend girl Seems that the more we're achieving The less chance of leaving this world With a reverend girl

Another lover wakes me Head upon a window pane Before the thunder shook us She could always smell the rain

A year is dissipating Another hail cannot disdain Never mind the thunder Now my lover smells like Now my lover smells like Now my lover smells like rain
