

The Verve, Stormy Clouds

I wanted to tell you my story
How my life seemed to change in a matter of days
The heavens break I am walking, no talking
How come change always seems to bring the rain
But through it all
I feel no pain

Stormy clouds, stormy clouds
On a new horizon, new horizon
Come and get it, if you want

So hop on the train 'cause it kills the pain
Blues player gone to another town
Believe me this boy here is sinking, just drinking

These streets, these times
They tie me down, I'm through with you
But through it all
But I feel no pain

Stormy clouds, stormy clouds
On a new horizon, new horizon
Come and get it, if you want

I'm tearing up inside
Don't be scared, come on inside
She wears the winds, these new horizons
See through the pain, a new horizon
Storm clouds, storm clouds
Storm clouds, storm clouds
Storm clouds
Storm clouds, storm clouds
A new horizon, over me
A new horizon, told you cheat
A new horizon, stormy clouds
I'm a living freak, a new horizon, stormy clouds
Over me now

The heavens are breaking
It's raining, you're faking
I'm walking, to the train, and
This boy won't come back again
Say it one more time
Nothing on my mind
There's nothing on my mind
