The Wallflowers, Everybody Out Of The Water

On your mark
Get set lets go
You got to move on
Before she explodes
Look out the window
Lookout below
Back away from the glass
There she blows
The citys been leveled
Hills are in flames
Streets cracked open
And theyre pushin up clay
Temperatures dropped
Sky is grey
And it aint even over
Here comes drivin rain
It aint me
That you feel
Theres something moving
Around in here
Thats blood
Thats tears
This aint a warning...

Everybody out of the water
Up on dry land
Take what you can
Cause you wont be here again
Everybody out of the water

Now Im treadin high water
To get back to you
Been looking for a low spot
Or something to cling to
Theres too many bodies

Theres not enough room
God help me
And God help you
They say nobody panic
Help is on its way
Were already on it
Youve got to be brave
If you can fix it now
Then dont make us wait
Man there aint nobody coming
Back away from the gates
That bell
That you hear
Thats hell
Ringing in your ears
I fear
That my dear
This aint a warning

[chorus]

Now Im looking up
And the shit keeps coming
Like shooting ducks
In a barrel of honey
Got to learn how to pray
Love wont be enough
Admit it now

Your information sucks
As I slip
Down in
I think of us someplace
High on a mountain
Smoke clears
Fog lifts
Little by little
We rebuild again
Till then

[chorus]
