

The Weeknd, Enemy

Oh, oh, oh, oh
So bad, I'm so bad, I'm so bad
Can I be honest with you please?
It's really hard for me to speak right now
Girl, I been drinkin' all day
It's been a long week
Can't you tell by my face?
I wanna lose myself between your legs
I wanna make your body shake
Girl, if you drink this fifth, no chase
I promise you'll have nothing to say
Cause at least I deserve this no conversation
I been working all week
I'd rather be your enemy
Than any friend you think I would be

I'm just tryin' take you home without a word
I'm just trying to kiss your neck without a word
I'm just trying to lay you down without a word
I'm just trying to get you high without a word
I'm just trying to make you numb without a word
I'm just trying to make you cum without a word
I'm just trying to make you sleep without a word
Girl, I'm just trying to let you leave without a word

Please, please, please
Let me be the enemy

I forgot how it feels to regret my sins
I need that old thing back baby
You can help me out baby
You remind me of a feeling that I used to have
So I don't know what to expect from you tonight
But I'm not trying to waste nobody's time
I'm just trying to find material, some inspiration
We can put it in a song, if you want
But at least I deserve is no conversation
I been working all week
I'd rather be your enemy
Than any friend you think I would be

I'm just tryin' take you home without a word
I'm just trying to kiss your neck without a word
I'm just trying to lay you down without a word
I'm just trying to get you high without a word
I'm just trying to make you numb without a word
I'm just trying to make you cum without a word
I'm just trying to make you sleep without a word
Girl, I'm just trying to let you leave without a word

I never fall for a girl like you
I'll never understand what you're going through
But your body poppin', your head game too
You lookin' at my nigga, you can have him too
Cause baby, I ain't perfect girl, I hope you knew
There ain't nothin' wrong, you can pick and choose
Just don't call tomorrow askin' "what did I do?"
You know what you did, all to blame is you
Now the least I deserve is no conversation
I been working all week
I'd rather be your enemy
Than any friend you think I would be

I'm just tryin' take you home without a word

I'm just trying to kiss your neck without a word
I'm just trying to lay you down without a word
I'm just trying to get you high without a word
I'm just trying to make you numb without a word
I'm just trying to make you cum without a word
I'm just trying to make you sleep without a word
Girl, I'm just trying to let you leave without a word