

The White Stripes, Ashtray Heart

You used me for an ashtray heart right from the start.
Case of the punks.
I feel like a glass shrimp.
Make invalids out of supermen.
Call in a shrink and pick up in a girdle.

You used me like an ashtray heart right from the start.
Case of the punks.
Another day, another way.
Somebody's had too much to think.
Open up another case of the punks.
You hid behind the curtain, waited for me to go out.
A man on a porcupine fence.
Each pillow is touted like a rock.
The mother/father figure.
Somebody's had too much to think.
Send your mother home, your navel.
Case of the punks.

You picked me out like an ashtray heart.
Hid behind the curtain, waited for me to go out.
Used me like an ashtray heart.
A man on a porcupine fence hit me where the lover hangs out.
While they crushed me out, you used me for an ashtray heart.
Look behind the curtain.
You looked in the window when I went out.
You used me like an ashtray heart .
Brush me off while I was burning out.
