

The Wilkinsons, I Wanna Be That Girl

(Walt Aldridge/Brad Crisler)

You say you wanna be in love
But you're just not sure enough
To let your heart get in too deep
You wanna play it smart with me
Not fall too recklessly
Kinda look before you leap
Well I, I think I'll pass this time
'Cause I got somethin' else in mind

When you're ready for the deep end
When you wanna walk the high wire, baby
When you're ready to take a chance
On findin' something real
When you're lookin' for a gambler
A little bit of adventure in your world
Well, I wanna be that girl

I know it's hard to bet
On somethin' you ain't seen yet
When it could be pleasure, it could be pain
I'm lookin' for the kind of heart
To risk it all from the very start
'Cause nothing ventured, nothing yet
And I've had it with half-hearted tries
This time I'm not gonna compromise

When you're ready for the deep end
When you wanna walk the high wire, baby
When you're ready to take a chance
On findin' something real
When you're lookin' for a gambler
A little bit of adventure in your world
Well, I wanna be that girl

When you're ready for the deep end
When you wanna walk the high wire, baby
When you're ready to take a chance
On findin' something real
When you're lookin' for a gambler
A little bit of adventure in your world
Well, I wanna be that girl

(When you're ready for the deep end
When you wanna walk the high wire, baby)
When you're ready to take a chance
I wanna be that girl
I wanna be that girl
