

Theory Of A Deadman, Say i'm sorry

As I sit in this coffee shop half way through your note I had to stop right near, the end, the letter said
Maybe when I leave i'll lead a life less empty
Maybe we were waiting way too long to end this soap opera story you'll accept just half of all these consequences
maybe then that's when i'll finally say i'm sorry
Why didn't you, why didn't I, why couldn't we, I wonder why She called me up the other day and thank god I knew exactly what to say you left me with this note and I quote, from the note you wrote
Maybe when I leave i'll lead a life less empty
Maybe we were waiting way too long to end this soap opera story
you'll accept just half of all these consequences
maybe then that's when i'll finally say i'm sorry
Why didn't you, why didn't I, why couldn't we, I wonder why
Why didn't you, why didn't I, why couldn't we, I wonder why Why didn't you, why didn't I
Maybe when I leave i'll lead a life less empty
Maybe we were waiting way too long to end this soap opera story
you'll accept just half of all these consequences
maybe then that's when i'll finally say i'm sorry
maybe then that's when i'll finally say i'm sorry
maybe then that's when i'll finally say i'm sorry
