Third Day, Run To You

Well I was tired of waiting Playing all the games and living in a place that was not for me
So I thought it was time for me to get worth mine and live out everything I dreamed

What I thought was the best for me turned out to be the worst I could fine

If I run to you will you hold me in your arms, forevermore. If I run to you will you hold me in your arms, forevermore.

Now I got a feeling that I gotta leave it Find a way back to where I came from Though I don't deserve it I know I sound hurtful Without you my life is gone

I confess that I shouldn't have run from you Now I know I was wrong

If I run to you will you hold me in your arms, forevermore. If I run to you will you hold me in your arms, forevermore.

Nowhere to run to and no one to turn to I'm dying out here on my own Long before I even though of returning Your arms are wide open, waiting for me to come home

Ohh Ohhh Ohhhhhh Waiting for me to come home Ohhh Ohhhh Ohhh Ohhhh

If I run to you will you hold me in your arms, forevermore. If I run to you will you hold me in your arms, forevermore.

If I run to you will you hold me in your arms, forevermore. If I run to you will you hold me in your arms, forevermore.

If I run to you If I run to you