

Thirteen Senses, All The Love In Your Hands

All the signs are there
I did not exist
Underneath the stars and comets

Far beneath the sun
Eyes can see
Anything they want to believe

I I was breathing on the oxygen that's left
I surrender
Put my hands up in the air
I waited for you there

But you left an everlasting breath
I saw the cold air
You wrap me up that way
With all the love in your hands

Oh

I believe in love
Because of you
Everything is broke inside now

Watch me in a daze
Seconds knew
That I fall apart without you

I I was breathing on the oxygen that's left
I surrender
Put my hands up in the air
I waited for you there

But you left an everlasting breath
I saw the cold air
You wrap me up that way
With all the love in your hands

Oh
