

This Beautiful Republic, Change The World

I'm finding it hard,
Hard to take
Mistakes we have made
Ignoring the ones
That we hold dear
Out of selfishness
All these things distract
Our eyes and steal our time
Why do we keep fighting, but saying everything's alright?
We all see the same things why can't we stand side by side?
United together, we can change the world
I'm learning to take the smallest steps, and making a way
Can You take anymore?
Can You stand by while our world crashes down?
Be the spark,
Forsake your pride,
Set things right
