

Thomas Anders, South of love

We took the road down to the water Watched the big ships passing by I took a deep breath, I bit my