

Thunder, Between The Covers

Thunder - Between The Covers Lyrics

I melted standing by the water
Summer in the city, it was hot
She said "which one d'you think is the daughter?"
She knew i knew the answer, but she fooled me on the spot

They both look good to me and I knew from the start
That there was more to this than meets the eye
But whatever I was thinking, I found that I was wrong

She said, baby, don't think it over
'cause we don't play this game like all the other
Don't be surprised, the moment you discover
You're free to light my fire between the covers

And i said, Well, well, well
I said, Well, well, well

They drove me to a shop front window
And i thought that i'd been waken up in hell
They said, we don't do this for any guy we meet
And I said, that's probably just as well

And we ended up back at some Switch hotel
The cold champagne was going to my head
I was thinking hard 'bout leaving
But I hvae to stay instead

And she said, baby, don't think it over
'cause we don't play this game like all the other
Don't be surprised, the moment you discover
You're free to light my fire between the covers

Alright!

They both look good to me and I knew from the start
That there was more to this than meets the eye
But whatever I was thinking, I found that I was wrong

And she said, baby, don't think it over
'cause we don't play this game like all the other
Don't be surprised, the moment you discover
You're free to light my fire between the covers

And i said, Well, well, well
Well, well, well
Well, well, well
Well well
Well, well, well
Baby
