

Thunder, Does It Feel Like Love?

When you walked in dressed to kill, with a smile upon your face
I thought my luck was about to change, the way you walked into my place
But it seems like I was wrong, still you wanna make me wait
Make your move or get out that door, 'cos baby it's getting late

I move a little to the left
You move a little to the right
And it's been that way all night
I'm gonna call your bluff
Baby do you want me?
Does it feel like love?

Blowing hot like a desert wind, then you're cold like a winter day
What you want I don't know, but you keep coming 'round to play
If there's something on your mind, then I don't know what it is Still you keep saying "take your time", but girl we haven't even kissed

I'm only flesh and blood
You know the way I'm feeling,
Lord I feel so good
Why d'you make it so tough?
Baby do you want me?
Does it feel like love?

Does it feel like love when I hold your hand?
'Cos I just don't understand
Why you've been holding back so long
Won't you tell me for pity's sake
How long are you gonna take?
You don't know how you turn me on

(Solo)

I move a little to the left
You move a little to the right
And it's been that way all night
I'm gonna call your bluff
Baby do you want me?
Baby do you want me?
Tell me
Does it feel like love?

Does it, does it, does it, yeah

Does it feel like love?
