

Thunder, Girl's Going Out Of Her Head

She was burning up with that white line fever
She said "tie me up", but I couldn't get near her
She was walking that fine line, stumbling all over the edge
Shaking like a leaf as high as a kite
I tried to leave but she didn't want to say goodnight

Chorus:

The girl's going out of her head, she's going crazy
Girl's going out of her head, she don't want to stop

She said "life's a bitch living in the fast lane
But my Daddy's rich so I shouldn't complain
I've got money if you want it, so much I can throw it away"
Then she held a gun right up to my head
I could have run but I didn't want to taste the lead

The girl's going out of her head, she's going crazy
Girl's going out of her head, she don't want to stop

She's going crazy

(Solo)

She was walking that fine line, stumbling all over the edge
Shaking like a leaf as high as a kite
I tried to leave but she, but she, she didn't want to say goodnight

The girl's going out of her head, she's going crazy
Girl's going out of her head, she don't want to stop

I said the girl's going out of her head, the girl's going out of her head
The girl's going out of her head, the girl's going out of her head
She's going crazy
