

Tiesto, Carry You Home (ft. Stargate & Aloe Blacc)

Everybody needs a little room to make mistakes you don't have to be so perfect you can go at your pace

just show me the real you so that I can feel you
I promise I won't let you down
so that I can feel you

let me carry you home
let me carry you home
when you're tired
and you're weary
and you have no strength to go on
when there's no one to turn to and all you've had faith in
has gone

everyone deserves a little precious time to stumble till they find a little peace of mind
