

Tiger Army, Pain

Regret sits heavy in your chest
Until sometimes it gets so hard to breathe
Sometimes it just won't go away
And you start to fear, it'll never leave
And when you think back on those times
It seems so close, just beyond your reach
The time past vanishes like smoke from a cigarette in the night breeze

Please stop this pain
Here for so long
Pain
Here for so long
I've felt this pain for so long

How is it that things turned out this way
What you've almost feared has come and gone
Since that time that everything was right
And now it just feels wrong, oh so wrong
And you're still dreaming of the time
When the day would come, it was meant to be
And you're still dreaming of the way
To reach that place that you've never been

Please stop this pain
Here for so long
Pain
Here for so long
I've felt this way for so long

Pain
Here for so long
Pain
Here for so long
Pain
Here for so long
I've felt this way for so long
