

Tina Arena, I Hope

I hope you can see the truth
That I still trust in you
This moment's here to stay
Don't let it all just slip away
So the demon has his way
Please help me to believe
That blessings come, from up above
Deciding to move on
Is never fun, for anyone

Ask the angel for the way
Maybe he will say your prayer
So let me say

I'll miss your call
But I hope you'll find
A heart that's worthy of your time
I hope you may in every way
Find what you are looking for

yeah yeah

Please don't you apologise
Cos it takes two every time
These moments are lessons for
A soul to learn about this life

Ask the angel for the way
Maybe he will save the day
So let me say
I'll miss your call but I hope you'll find
A heart that's worthy of your time
I hope u may in every way
Find what you are looking for
I'll miss your call
But I hope you'll find

And every time I close my eyes
You better believe in what I'm trying to say
You may be asking yourself why, you did it
And now it's just a matter of time
Its just a question of time
yeah yeah
