

Tingsek, Good way of life

You have a good way of life, you are truly just all that you do You never even think of why it is and how it goes Loving every second of the fact that you just know

You have a good way of life
you don't listen to anything they say Sharing everything with everybody else spreading so much love around from deep within yourself

Will you drop your weapons and just hurry off somewhere I need to be someone for a while other than this fool you made me I get to concentrate on things I should have done I think of everything we build on greed and pretend perception

Would you make my day and just let yourself away Come and bring love anytime but leave the past twenty years behind We need to look forward and listen to ourselves and not playing the melody obviously made for someone else

Before it used to be so easy to control but now I just wait for something to hate some more The no meaning whatsoever will be followed up though I might just turn it into something to hold me up, oh
