

Toby Lightman, Slipping

I'm always taking my time to fall in love Usually fall behind I'm always making up lies
To drift away, get you out of my mind
And yes I know it's not ok
To close my eyes to love this time

Why am I competing, when I know I should let you in cause you'll just keep defeating me until I let you win my heart
Your love has taken down my guard

Now on your love I'm tripping
For your love I'm slipping
With your love I'm drifting
With your love

You should know it's not like me to give my heart away so easily And you should know I can't always be wearing my soul on my sleeve

I'm know when I'm dreaming
All I dream of is me and you So why do I keep reaching for something more to hold onto when I fall
You love has taken down my walls

Oh it's not like me to give my heart so easily Oh I can't always be wearing my soul on my sleeve Hey I'm taking my time, fall in love or fall behind Hey I'm making up lies, drifting away..
