

Tom Jones, After The Tears

Do you want a shoulder
I only want to hold you
In your hour of need
I hate to say I told you so
But you should've let him go
It just wasn't meant to be

Let me make your pain a little lighter
I can help you make your world a little brighter

I'll be there when the shouting's over
I'll be here after the tears
You just may need me to hold you
I'll be here after the tears

Just a matter of time now
Till I make you mine now
It could happen any day
Waited patiently
Now it looks like you're gonna be free
The tide is turning my way

I'll see you through all the confusion
I'll be your only true solution

I'll be here when the party's over
I'll be here after the tears
You just may need another lover
I'll be here after the tears

Hold on
Love is not so far away
Can you hear it calling
Be strong
I'll be waiting in the wings

(I'll be here when the shouting's over)
i can make it better
(I'll be here after the tears)
I can make it better
(You just may need me to hold you)
I can make it better
(I'll be here after the tears)
(I can make it better)

I'll be here when the party's over
(I can make it better)
I'll be here after the tears
(I can make it better)
You just may need another lover
(I can make it better)
I'll be here after the tears
(I can make it better)