Tom Jones, Sleeping Annaleah

Yesterday the sun was shining but you're finding the sun it Don't shine all the time A winter day suddenly came your way And you ran into your mind

Sleeping Annaleah, Weeping Annaleah Do you think you're ready for me?

Oh and yesterday is gone forever and ever, never To be again You looked for the sunshine, that brought warmth to your mind But find only rain

Sleeping Annaleah, Weeping Annaleah No, you're not ready for me

But when yesterday becomes a memory, a memory That we uncovered in time If you still remember that cold September I reigned in your mind

Sleeping Annaleah, Weeping Annaleah Then you'd be ready for me

Sleeping Annaleah, whoa Weeping Annaleah whoa (rpt till fade)
