

Tom Petty & The Heartbreakers, How Many More

There is something little darling
That I want you to know
Honey I love you, yeah I need you
Every night, every day goes so slow
How many more days?
I wanna see you again

Yes, I remember you smiling
I remember you feeling mighty fine
I remember your kiss, I remember your touch
I can't get you out of my mind
Little girl, how many more days?
I need to see you again
How long will that take?
I wanna see you again

Oh babe can't you see? I'll be honest with you

Please don't lie babe, please don't smile
Please don't play around with this heart of mine
Can't you see?
It's something I want babe
It's more than that, it's something I need
Oh little darling please be truthful, please
Be faithful, please come now to me
Oh baby -- I need to see you again

Please remember, little lover
I'll give the good to you
Please remember, my little lover
I'll be good to you -- But how many more days?
'Till I can see you again -- Please don't make me wait
I wanna see you again --
