Tom Petty, The Man Who Loves Women

He's the man who loves women Women, women, women He's the man who loves women And fallin' in love everyday

When he sees a senorita It's a sure thing that he'll heed her He's the man who loves women And fallin' in love everyday

But in the mornin' when she wakes up He'll be far away Keepin' his secrets safe Hey hey hey hey

But in the mornin' when she wakes up He'll be far away Keepin' his secrets safe Hey hey hey hey Ah ah ah Babe, babe, babe, babe, babe, babe, I love you

He's quite prepared to mingle Comes on like he's single He's the man who loves women And fallin' in love's just his way And one of these days he's gonna pay For fallin' in love everyday

Oh stay away, he's the man who loves women Oh stay away, he's the man who loves women Oh stay away, he's the man who loves women...
