

Tommy Reeve, I'm Sorry

I know I wasn't there, when you needed me the most.
I know I didn't care and was afraid to get so close.
Tonight it's getting hard to fall asleep.
Cause it's becoming clear that I broke all into pieces
and I can not reverse it.
So I've got one more thing to say.
I'm sorry for your pain, I'm sorry for your tears.
For all the little things I didn't know,
I'm sorry for the words I didn't say.
But what I still do, I'm still loving you.
I know I let you wait, and been away for far too long.
But now I can relate to everything that I did wrong.
Stop breathing when I think I'm losing you.
There'll be no excuse so I'm on my knees,
So listen please, let me hold your hand once again.
I'm sorry for your pain, I'm sorry for your tears.
For all the little things I didn't know,
I'm sorry for the words I didn't say.
I'm sorry for the lies, I'm sorry for the fights.
For not showing my love a thousand times,
I'm sorry for the things that I called mine.
But what I still do I'm still loving you.
I'm sorry for your pain, I'm sorry for your tears.
For all the little things I didn't know,
I'm sorry for the words I didn't say
I'm sorry for the lies, I'm sorry for the fights.
For not showing my love a thousand times,
I'm sorry for the things that I called mine.
But what I still do I'm still loving you.
That's what I'll always do
