

Tone Damli Aaberge, Hate you

Such a pleasant surprise
I didn't know your back in town
Strange that two years down the line
Feels like you're always were around
You have this effect on me
And this is the last thing I need
And damn you, for stilling being so cute
I wasn't gonna kiss you, then you turned up in that suite
And damn you, for liking me this much
I try to play it cool, but being around you drives me nuts
And I just hate you right now
I really should't memorize
Feels like we're already out of line
And now it's getting kinda late
Well, maybe one more glass for old times sake
It's somehow the same each time
We're such trouble you and I
And damn you, for stilling being so cute
I wasn't gonna kiss you, then you turned up in that suite
And damn you, for liking me this much
I try to play it cool, but being around you drives me nuts
And I just hate you right now
I'm not going back I've sworn
Well, maybe just once more
And damn you, for stilling being so cute
I wasn't gonna kiss you, then you turned up in that suite
And damn you, for liking me this much
I try to play it cool, but being around you drives me nuts
And damn you, for stilling being so cute
I wasn't gonna kiss you, then you turned up in that suite
And damn you, you made me miss my train
And I hate the fact it feel so right, and that you feel the same
And I
Hate you right now
Hate you right now
