

Tony Vincent, Can't Have One Without The Other

Every river needs the water every mountain needs rocks and trees every snowfall needs some whiteness to believe in every heart will need some loving every soul some lasting peace while the earth keeps spinning 'round

You can't have one without the other green and blue need earth and sky they cannot separate us if they try
'cause love's the reason

Doesn't matter if you're happy doesn't matter if you're sad in everything there comes a season so be glad in all the times when there is trouble know that there's a helping hand from someone who understands

You can't have one without the other
they cannot separate us if they try

Love, love, love's the reason why love's the reason why
