

Tosteer, The Hardest Task

Strange fear is moving closer
Waiting to take you over
Maybe you have to
Leave all that hurt you
Try once more
No-one can share your sorrow
No-one pretends to follow
No-one can help you
Find a way to get through
The maze in you
With every drug you're trying
Your thoughts are slowly dying
Easing the pain
Seems like the hardest task in the world
Why can't you see it's coming
Your life, your mind is burning
Starting again
Seems like the hardest task in the world
Sorrows are coming closer
To be your midnight lovers
Baby they need you
Won't last without you
Depend on you
You don't know how to go on
When nothing's left to hold on Baby you have to
Find light that your god
Hid in you
With every drug you're trying
Your thoughts are slowly dying
Easing the pain
Seems like the hardest task in the world
Why can't you see it's coming
Your life, your mind is burning
Starting again
Seems like the hardest task in the world
