Since I was a child I've seen her in a dream A captured fairytale That echoes cross my life

And though I've courted her She's always stayed unseen Now all at once she Glitters in the night

But that was yesterday And that all was before When she was far away A silhouette of dreams

But others whispered That she was so much more And suddenly I now Know what they mean

Dreams change Years strains Lost illusions Last stands God's hand Absolution Found

Fairytale sins
Visions by Grimm
All forgiven
Lives spent in vain
Never reclaimed
Take their final bows

Pictures and words
Visions absurd
Maddened poets
All within sight
Failure in life
Who'll never know it
Lazarus cries
There in his eye
Hope has risen
Depth and facade
All before me now
