

Travis, Enemy

A Little Piece, of everything
That's ever been or will
Is shining for you still
Look up

Start from start, and try again
To see it through the smoke
And the mirrors that you've broke
For love

(Chorus)

And it feels like something just stole my spirit
Snook up on me when i couldnt hear it
But i can see the enemy
Hes done alright for me
And somewhere inside of me i can see
My enemy

Pick a window, Pick a sight
Its just a choice you make
Another little break
In us
Time and time, and time again
You see it through the cracks
Bitter words you like
Is enough

(Chorus)
(guitar solo)

But i can see the enemy
Hes done alright for me
And somewhere inside of me i can see
My enemy
