Travis, Last Train

Rain on the brain Now there's flowers in your window She, well she's so strange I don't know anything about her

But if it's all the same to you Here's what I'm gonna do I'm gonna write a song Gonna sing it to everyone And then I'll sing it to you 'Cause it was you that wrote it too This could be the last train

Search within yourself for feelings Everybody's got them You left me on the shelf And no there's no one to rely on

But if it's all the same to you Here's what I'm gonna do I'm gonna buy a gun Gonna shoot everything everyone And then I'm coming for you 'Cause it was you that drove me to This could be the last train

Rear window with the room in the hair
And on her jacket there's a picture in white of Che Guevara
As he sits beneath the tree
But that's not important
But he looked a bit like me
If you took all the little feelings in your heart
And took all those little feelings all apart
Oh well now what's the point in doing all of that
