Treble Charger, Cheat Away

Say what you want about it It just isn't true
Just concerning me and you Is it any wonder anyway
With nothing else to do
If you see it any other way
First you can go
Later you can fake it
So why make it any harder
Just tell them everything you know

Is it wise to make amends No surprise You're among friends

So say goodbye And find a place you'll keep Hidden somewhere cold and deep Don't disappoint us all and cheat away your time

Why does everyone ignore it It won't go away It'll get you through the day Doesn't anybody know by now There's never anything to say

Is it wise to make amends No surprise You're among friends

So say goodbye and find a place you'll keep Hidden somewhere cold and deep Don't disappoint us all And weep for old times

Save a cry You'll need it in a week And every holiday retreat Don't disappoint us all and cheat away your time

I'm looking down a tunnel But I can't see the light

So say goodbye And find a place you'll keep Hidden somewhere cold and deep Don't disappoint us all and weep for old times

Save a cry You'll need it in a week And every holiday retreat Don't disappoint us all and cheat away your time

Save a cry
And find a place you'll keep (cheat away your time)
Hidden somewhere cold and deep
Don't disappoint us all and cheat away your time
Cheat away your time
Cheat away your time
