

Tree63, All Hands

Well I burned my past
I sent it up in flames
I threw away my keys
I got my name changed

Don't you remember me: always on the run?
I got the sunshine on
And I'm growing fast
You will never see me crawl again

Chorus:
All hands up: who has had enough?
Come on make your mind up
All hands all hands up

All hands up: anyone strong enough?
The world needs someone tough
All hands all hands up

Where's the Truth?
Something Absolute?
I'd give everything I have
For something I don't have to prove

Who's going to stand with me?
Who's it going to be?
This is just to die for
It takes a fool to see
You will never ever crawl again

(Chorus)
