Tree63, All Hands

Well I burned my past I sent it up in flames I threw away my keys I got my name changed

Don't you remember me: always on the run? I got the sunshine on And I'm growing fast You will never see me crawl again

Chorus:

All hands up: who has had enough? Come on make your mind up All hands all hands up

All hands up: anyone strong enough? The world needs someone tough All hands all hands up

Where's the Truth? Something Absolute? I'd give everything I have For something I don't have to prove

Who's going to stand with me? Who's it going to be? This is just to die for It takes a fool to see You will never ever crawl again

(Chorus)