

Tremolo, Can You Feel It Now?

You used to stand off to the right of me
I'd look in your direction we'd agree
I used to sing to you
Sub-sonic blues

You had a far-away look in your eye
Your soul was strutting in its earth disguise
My music moved in you
Boom, Boom, Boom

And at the perfect moment you would go and up light up the room

Can you feel it now?
Can you feel it now?
Can you feel it now?
Can you feel it now?

You do not have to read my lips today
You knew the words I'm speaking yesterday
Your ghetto-blaster sings
New harmonies

I was the rhythm in your symphony
But your last movement passed me suddenly
I know you're hearing me
I just can't see

And at the perfect moment you would go and light up the room

Can you feel it now?
Can you feel it now?
Can you feel it now?
Can you feel it now?

Wherever you are I'm sure that you are still lighting up the room

Pound Pound on the ceiling if you're hearing what I'm feeling
Pound Pound on the ceiling if you're hearing what I'm feeling

Can you feel it now?
Can you feel it now?
Can you feel it now?
Can you feel it now?
Can you feel it now?
Can you feel it now?
Can you feel it now?
Can you feel it now?
