

Trevor Morgan, Dying To Live

All this vanity says the preacher
Preach on I know how you feel
Well I've tried a thousand ways
To re-invent this broken wheel
Running circles round what's real

Sat at a thousand tables
And ate til I'd had enough
Yet I was always thirsty
Until I tasted of Your cup
Nothing else can fill me up

Cause I'm dying to live for You
I'd give it all for something true
Take the old I've held on to
And make it new

Yea I'm dying to live for You
After all that I've been through
Tell me what else can I do
I'm dying to live for You

Read between the lines
Across my thorough brow
To burdens that enslave me
I will no longer bow
I'll only serve one master now

I'm dying to live for You
I'd give it all for something true
Take the old I've held on to
And make it new

Yea I'm dying to live for You
After all that I've been through
Tell me what else can I do
I'm dying to live for You

Well I know theres a better way
And it's You
And I dont care what price I pay
I'm dying to live for You

I'm dying to live for You
I'd give it all for something true
Take the old I've held on to
And make it new

Yea I'm dying to live for You
After all that I've been through
Tell me what else can I do
I'm dying to live for You
