

Tricky, Scrappy Love

where've you been, love?
how've you been, love?
it's a long time since i've seen love
you make me happy, love hope that you're happy, love
i was a scrappy love
i feel like i'm stupid now
how've you been, love?
i've committed a sin, love you care for him, love?
he's good for you, love guess who has sinned, love? she asked how you're doin', love i feel kind of stupid, love
'till he moves to the neck to the push to the shove how much time has it been, love?
how much time has it been, love?
we don't even speak now remember the first walk-out?
you fill my need you tell me to read
we sat in the park
we sat just apart
but not for our own love
we grew a strong love
wish i could sin love
feel like i'm stupid now
how've you been, love?
do you care for him love?
