

Tripping Daisy, Your Socks Have No Name

It's all that you do that carries you through
And the power that you receive destroys you
So you take little gun and you zap em' cause all
You ever wanted was the truth
It's always the same way when you walk and you breathe
You walk into me
You walk and you blink when you walk into me
You walk and then scream
Get out of town said the man to the crowd, my doppler radar predicts a breeze of long hands
So I'm not just hanging around while they laugh about it
I got places to be and the sky's the limit
No more bowling on arrows for me
Cause all you ever wanted was glue
It's always the same when you walk in the rain
You walk and complain
Your socks have no name so you stop the parade
No more walking today
