

Trisha Yearwood, I'm Still Alive (You're Gone)

(Matraca Berg - Al Anderson)

Woke up this mornin', just another day
Got myself out of bed in the usual way
Threw back the curtains and the sun was shinin'
Well, it seems these days I got such good timin'.

Since I let you go
Well, what do you know.

Guess I fooled everybody
Said I'd love you till the day that I die
Even if you didn't love me
Sorry baby I guess I lied
You're gone and I'm still alive. oh, oh yeah, yeah

I'm the kind of girl that never fails
To hang on to the past by my fingernails
And I can't help it, even I'm amazed
At how much better they look painted in pink sorbet.

What took me so long to sing this song
Guess I fooled everybody
Said I'd love you till the day that I die
Even if you didn't love me
Sorry baby I guess I lied
You're gone and I'm still alive. oh, oh yeah, yeah

I said goodbye and I survived
I'm still alive.

Since I let you go well what do you know
Guess I fooled everybody
Said I'd love you till the day that I die
Even if you didn't love me
Sorry baby I guess I lied
You're gone and I'm still alive. oh, oh yeah, yeah

I'm still alive. oh, oh yeah
Yeah well, what do you know...
