

Trivium, Vengeance

Ill drown you in the black sea,
Pulling you under, the blackness you created,
In the moonlight, your blood goes even darker,
word has, you did all this, in baptism,

Did you tell them this would bring them closer to god?
So at the sound you can call this, your baptism

I'll be the servant who through humility of
The man who you brought to his knees and made a misery break
I'll be the torch to burn all down into the ground
The man who you brought to his knees and made a misery break

I thought this would be a nice sight for you,
What comes up in the grey spot, is placed before my hands
Your supposed to bring this like I asked for protection
Thought it was violation and got it stole

Did you tell them this would bring them closer to god
So at the sound you call this, your baptism

I'll be the servant who through humility of
The man who you brought to his knees and made a misery break
I'll be the torch to burn all down into the ground
The man who you brought to his knees and made a misery break

Kneel down, for a start
Bow down, to the cradle
In the name of god

[solo]

I'll be the servant who through humility of
The man who you brought to his knees and made a misery break
I'll be the torch to burn all down into the ground
The man who you brought to his knees and made a misery break

Grind it all through with the demons skin,
Ill leave you to that choking on your blood
CHOKING ON YOUR BLOOD!!
