

Turbonegro, Boys From Nowhere

We're the boys turning inside out
Open right so tight without a doubt
We're the boys always wrong and always right
We are the boys from nowhere and we're going home tonight
Meet us on the outside where the darkness shines so bright
On the autobahn where we first found our souls
'Cause when the world is over
We're still the boys from Nowhere
And tonight, tonight we're coming home
We're the boys heavier than light
So beyond repair but out of spite
Faraways near, the only beacons the night
Scariest than fear but that's alright
See you on the outskirts where the wasteland meets the night
Behind the railway tracks where we first found our souls.
'Cause when the world is over
We're still the boys from nowhere
And tonight, tonight we're coming home
Gotta go
What are ya doing?
We don't know!
Where are ya going?
We don't care!
You'll never know!
Meet us on the highway where the headlights shine so bright
By the gas station where we first found our souls
'Cause when the world is over
We're still the boys from nowhere
And tonight, tonight we're coming home
Tonight, tonight we're coming home!
Oh tonight...
Tonight we're coming...
We're coming home!
