TV On The Radio, Wear You Out

I can barely move For want of room And I'm forgettin' to breathe

But the sight of you Has me instantly Remember my needs

Oh the lights spin
And the beat breaks in
And I'm smellin' your sweet

Should I spend the next six hours Tryin' to get you Off your feet?

Oh no girl, just pretend There ain't no one else around

So let's break it down Ooh, let's break it down

Watch a room full of roosters Turned to cocks runnin' wild Scramblin' like hungry dogs

Towards you, child

See those boys tryin' to sweat you Watchin' grown men cry

Like you're shakin' it Like you're shakin' it Like you're shakin' it

Put somethin' in their eyes Oh wide open eyes

Well here I am
Just a man
Is this light flattering?
Did you notice my crown of feathers
And check out my vital vibrant comb?
Oh puff chest out and play strong
Grab you by the hair and pull you along

Or do I just talk to you And tell you what I really Really really want to do

Stop because you think that you Know where this is going Couldn't stop it girl If you knew where this was going You don't know the half

You seem so so smart Ooh, but you're so wrong

Closing time
Pale blue lights gonna shine
In through any open window
Nighttime says goodbye

Let's pursue this argument in darkness Curtains drawn, limbs entwined

Now you're two hours away From starting your day And you can't be late So let's get straight

Let me wear you out Let me wear you out

Let me make you mine, mine, mine Let me make you mine, mine, mine
