

Twilightning, Jester Realm

Lose your mind and lose your personality
Step inside and see how foolish things can be
To trade a crown for a hat with tiny bells
Is far too much to ask for living in a cell

Put on your motley suit and play their song with your lute
So you won't be condemned

Year after year, this amusing circus remains
The day draws near, it's only the clowns that are to change
During that wait, I wonder how I could conceal
My rage and hate, as I kneeled before the jester realm

Captured by the law these poor apprentices
A misuse of force with evil mentors
Can't say, no way, please don't take my precious away
It's too big a price to pay

Put on your motley suit and play their song with your lute
So you won't be condemned, yeah, yeah!

Year after year, this amusing circus remains
The day draws near, it's only the clowns that are to change
During that wait, I wonder how I could conceal
My rage and hate, as I kneeled before the jester realm

Year after year, this amusing circus remains
The day draws near, it's only the clowns that are to change
Year after year, this amusing circus remains
The day draws near

Put on your motley suit and play their song with your lute
So you won't be condemned

Year after year, this amusing circus remains
The day draws near, it's only the clowns that are to change
During that wait, I wonder how I could conceal
My rage and hate, as I kneeled before the jester realm