

Twisted Sister, Run For Your Life

He wakes up in the mornin' and he looks into the glass
His face it reminds him of the long nights that have passed
And he wonders if she wonders that he wonders about her
Well darlin', you'd better run for your life

Girl you played with my head
You destroyed my mind
Now I'd be better off dead
You'd better run for your life

Through abused intentions
You misused my trust
Now's the time for redemption
You'd better run for your life

Solo - Eddie

Girl, my life's in ruins
Pay 'The Tab of Pain'
Now I'm after you and
You'd better run for your life
You'd better run for your life
You'd better run for your life
